Techniques to Know

Basic Hand Stitching
Double Knot

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Download kangaroo template. Trace two kangaroo shapes onto two brown foam sheets and cut out. Use sharpie to draw the detail lines and pouch onto one kangaroo shape (this will be the top side of the kangaroo). Use the exacto knife to cut the pouch slit on the (top) kangaroo cut out.

2. Layer the top kangaroo cut out (with marker details) on top of the bottom kangaroo cut out. Use a small hole punch or bead reamer to punch small holes in the middle of the ears, on both kangaroo cut outs, for the lanyard clips to attach. Place dots of craft glue around the top perimeter of the bottom kangaroo cut out and place the top cut out on top of it. Allow to dry slightly. This will help keep the cut outs lined up when you stitch them together.

3. Use the needle threader to thread the middle of 4 yds. of dark brown floss onto a sewing needle. Beginning at the bottom, start stitching the edges of the two kangaroo cut outs together, leaving 3-4" tails to tie off later.

4. Keep stitching the edges of the kangaroo cut outs together. Once you reach the starting tail of floss, tie the floss tails together into a secure knot that rests on the underside of the kangaroo. Place a drop of crystal glue onto the knot and allow to dry. Trim floss tails.

5. Securely sew an e-bead onto the top cut out over the eye of the kangaroo. Trim floss tails.

6. Place name letters under the pouch on the kangaroo. Use dots of craft glue to help the adhesive letters adhere to the foam sheet. Allow to dry.

7. Determine desired length of the hanging cord, allowing extra for tying end knots that will attach to the lanyard clips. Cut polka dot cord to that length. Snugly wrap a small piece of scotch tape around one end of the cord. Slide pony beads onto each end of the cord.

8. Knot each end of cord onto lanyard clips. Apply a dot of crystal glue to each knot and allow to dry. Carefully slide lanyard clips through the holes punched in the kangaroo ears.

9. Store an extra mask or two in the pouch and show off your kangaroo%.
