- Ruler
- Pencil
- Scissors
- Wire Cutters or Snippers (for cutting dowel w/ adult supervision)
- Child Safe Clear Drying Glue
- Small Craft Paint Brush or Small Foam Paint Brush

Techniques to Know

Basic Cutting

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Download flower template, print onto heavy weight paper, and cut out the pattern. Trace two flower patterns onto the back side of a red foam sheet. Cut the circle out of the middle of one flower and don't cut it out of the other.
2. Remove the adhesive backing from the flower with the circle cut out of the middle. Dip pompoms into a spot of glue and firmly press them down onto the adhesive to cover and fill in the entire surface of the flower. Allow to dry. (This is the top of the flower.)
3. With adult supervision, use wire cutters or snippers to cut a 9" length of dowel. Use a paint brush to cover the surface of a dowel with a light coating of glue. Cut a 3/4" x 9" length of green adhesive back felt, remove the backing from the felt and roll it around the length of the dowel so the ends meet up and it covers the outside of the dowel.
4. Remove adhesive backing from the other flower. Press the photo image onto the adhesive in the middle of the circle. Generously apply glue around one end of the dowel. Place that end of the dowel onto the adhesive of the flower so it lines up with the bottom of the photo image.
5. Press the back of the top of the flower down onto the adhesive of the bottom part of the flower so the petals of the two flower shapes line up and the dowel end is sandwiched in between. Use scissors to trim any unevenness in the top and bottom edges of the flower petals.
